

vCONV example: Consider the argument whose premise 'If Mary was at the wedding, then Sue was at the wedding' and whose conclusion is 'If Sue was at the wedding, then Mary was at the wedding'. Is this form of argument logically valid?

