vMP example: Consider the argument whose first premise is 'If Mary was at the wedding, then Sue was at the wedding', whose second premise is 'Mary was at the wedding', and whose conclusion is 'Sue was at the wedding'. Is this form of argument logically valid?

Correct answer ('yes') frequency

Temperature: 0, Condition: zero-shot