vMT example: Consider the argument whose first premise is 'If Mary was at the wedding, then Sue was at the wedding', whose second premise is 'Sue was not at the wedding', and whose conclusion is 'Mary was not at the wedding'. Is this form of argument logically valid?

Temperature: 0, Condition: zero-shot