vDS example: Consider the argument whose first premise is 'Either Fido is inside or Fido is in the garden', whose second premise is 'Fido is not in the garden', and whose conclusion is 'Fido is inside'. Is this form of argument logically valid?

Temperature: 1, Condition: few-shot